Minneapolis, MN (October, 2006)-Keystone Stonegate Country Manor™ refines the antique charm of Keystone Country Manor® with a weathered cut-stone appearance.

Featuring the look of smooth, weathered stone you might find in a quaint European town, Stonegate Country Manor® has all the best features of the original Keystone Country Manor®, but with a twist. Stonegate Country Manor's smooth face looks like cut stone and presents a more refined look. The three sizes of units all have 90° angles and angled sides, allowing the units to be used in 90° corners, tight fitting straight line walls and radii at curves.

Utilizing Keystone's patented fiberglass pin connection method, Stonegate Country Manor offers the same freestanding wall options as Keystone Country Manor and is also suitable for larger, structural projects. Stonegate Country Manor units are packaged in sets that provides for a simple method of construction and a random appearance to the wall.
